The Platt-Croker idea of a Hi-Partisan Police bill that would give Commissioners named by them all the power and to make the Superintendent a sort of an errand boy, did not go through. Croker, however, is said to have the best of it, if the bill, as amended, goes through, as he will name the Republican Commissioners. One of the Republicans may be a McClave, and Tammany would then have everything as much its own way as now. would then have every own way as now.
